

You're Invited.

Join us for the official opening of the Alabama Street Corridor

Saturday, June 7, 2008 9:00 a.m.

Market St. & Alabama St. *

Alabama St. from Washington St. to Ohio St., and Market St. from New Jersey St. to Delaware St. will be closed 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. for this event.*

Remarks by Mayor Greg Ballard, Central Indiana Community Foundation President Brian Payne and other VIPs

Kids' One Block Fun Run

Walking Tours of Cultural Trail along Alabama St. (five blocks)

Free parking available at nearby street meters or $5 all day in the paved lot on the northeast corner of Washington St. and New Jersey St.

Enjoy other Indianapolis events June 7!
(over)

www.IndyCulturalTrail.org ~ 317.713.3333

Discover Indy's Cultural Districts June 7!

10 a.m. – Divers & Dragons: Celebrating U.S. Olympic Diving Trials, Alabama St. & North St., English Foundation Building parking lot, Free

Kids Day on the Canal, north end of Canal, Buggs Temple, Free

11 a.m. Vintage Indiana Wine & Food Fest, Military Park
For tickets call (800) 359-2968, visit Marsh Supermarkets, or buy at the gate

Scales & Tails Fest – A Celebration of Pets, Indiana State Museum
For tickets call (317) 232-1637 or buy at the museum

7 p.m. Outrun the Sun, walk/run, IU Michael A. Carroll Track & Soccer Stadium, IUPUI
To register call (317) 253-2121

The Herron Experience 2008 ~ Art Couture (THE '08), Eskenazi Hall, IUPUI
For tickets call (317) 278-9473

The Indianapolis Cultural Trail: A Legacy of Gene & Marilyn Glick is a world-class urban bike and pedestrian path that connects neighborhoods, Cultural Districts and entertainment amenities, and serves as the downtown hub for the entire central Indiana greenway system.

The five downtown cultural districts connected by the Indianapolis Cultural Trail include Fountain Square, Indiana Avenue,
Mass Ave, The Canal & White River State Park, and the Wholesale District. The Cultural Trail will also connect with the Monon Trail, allowing visitors easy access to Broad Ripple Village from downtown.

The Cultural Trail is made possible by a large public and private collaboration led by Central Indiana Community Foundation, the City of Indianapolis and several not-for-profit organizations devoted to building a better city.

